

Call for Applications NIMBioS Graduate Awards

NIMBioS announces a new program offering up to 20 NIMBioS Graduate Awards effective April 2019 and tenable through June 2020. The awards are designed to supplement the funding available for UTK/UTIA graduate students to enhance their research and education. The awards are each $2500 and will be awarded through a competitive process. Two types of awards are available:

Type A awards support the research/education of the student in areas that align with the efforts of NIMBioS at the interface of the quantitative and life sciences*

Type B awards support the research/education of the student that enhances activities connected with the four NIMBioS-affiliated programs and that fosters new collaborations across disciplines beyond just the quantitative and life sciences.*

Application deadline: March 22, 2019.
