NIMBioS to Host UBM Conference Oct. 23-24

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. – The National Institute for Mathematical and Biological Synthesis will host the annual National Science Foundation's (NSF) Interdisciplinary Training for Undergraduates in Biological and Mathematical Sciences (UBM) conference in Knoxville, TN, Oct. 23-24, 2009.

This annual conference will provide an opportunity for undergraduates to present their work in talks or posters. The conference also includes a panel discussion on career opportunities for students and hosts the NSF UBM PI meeting. Plenary and featured speakers include Dr. Lisa Fauci, Tulane University, and Paul Super, Great Smoky Mountains National Park. Faculty, students, and Tennessee teachers (grades 6-12) are invited to attend.

To register, visit <http://www.nimbios.org/education/UBM>. To apply for support, register by Sept. 9. If no support is needed, you may register by Sept. 29.
